In 2019, the EU budget formation process will undergo significant changes. Who will exercise the power of the EU Purse?

The EUI's School of Transnational Governance and the Centre for European Policy Studies are jointly organising the Executive Training Seminar 'The Power of the EU Purse: Mastering the Multiannual Financial Framework'. The Training will examine the new developments in the EU budget and the 2021-2027 Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF), and the ways they impact the EU, Member States and national Parliaments.

Participants will hone their strategic knowledge and skills by:

- Analysing the new developments of the MFF and the state of play of negotiations;
- Identifying and discussing best practices on how EU and national actors scrutinise the MFF;
- Gaining expertise on Parliaments' instruments and related assessments related to the management of EU/Eurozone affairs;
- Obtaining invaluable insights about the role of the InvestEU as an EU financial instrument;
- Examining how EU budget mechanisms affect national economic policies;
- Steering an inter-parliamentary network of best practices.

Through interactive exercises such as a simulation game, modelling a real budget-case scenario, an Oxford debate and a world café, this Executive Training Seminar will create an enabling environment for peer-learning and for inter-institutional networking.

The Training takes place at CEPS on 13-14 June.
